SOMETHING WRONG. How the Navy Department Sacrifices the Lives of Its Men.

WASHINGTON, January 6th. - Representative Davis has prepared a report from the Committee on Pensions with reference to the bill granting a pension to Margaret Baker, widow of Commander Samuei H. Baker. It shows a most deplorable condition of affairs in the Navy Department. The report save:

a pension to Margaret Baker, widow of Commander Samuel H. Baker. It shows a most deplorable condition of affairs in the Navy Department. The report says:

"The late Commander Samuel H. Baker, husband of the petitioner, was a man of splendid physical condition and of distinguished acquirement, and he was considered one of the most promising officers in the navy. About January 30, 1888, he was in command of the United States store-ship Monongahela at Coquimbo, Chile, with orders to proceed from that port to San Francisco. This ship was a steam vessel, but orders were that she was to proceed to San Francisco under sail. The complement of crew furnished Commander Baker for this purpose were a boatswain, three mates, six seamen and twelve landsmen—an actual working force of eighteen men—put to navigate a vessel of some 3,000 tons burden on a long voyage. The vessel got under way February 2, 1888, it having taken this short-handed crew three days to heave anchor, which is usually the work of only a few minutes. On the 25th of February she arrived off the port of Payta, Peru, being then short of water and with the men under restricted allowance. Party because this vessel came from a Chilean port, and partly because it was alleged that epidemic diseases were raging in the port from which she came, she was denied admission into Payta, and denied the privilege of communicating with the shore for the purpose of telegraphing the condition of her crew to the Navy Department at Washington. The vessel had no distiller aboard, and altogether the manner in which she was sent out, and the insufficiency of her equipment and crew are mysteries of naval administration.

equipment and crew are mysteries of naval administration.

"About the 1st of March, 1888, through the intervention of the Commander of the United States steamer Alert, Commander Baker succeeded in putting himself in communication with the Navy Department, and the result of his telegram was an order that the Monongahela was to proceed to San Francisco. The execution of this order was entered upon immediately, and after many privations Commander Baker brought his vessel into that port on the 19th of May, 1888. Under ordinary circumstances the voyage should have been made in thirty days.

"During this period Commander Baker stood watch every day, exposed to weather which the log shows to have been exceedingly inclement. During the entire run from Payta to San Francisco, from March 12th to May 19th, the log shows that the officers and crew were on a short allowance of water, and it has been shown to the satisfaction of the committee that nothing but the unceasing personal toil and exposure of Commander Baker and the other officers, in performing the ordinary duties of seamen, enabled the vessel to be brought to the port of San Francisco. The effect of this upon Commander Baker was his death, by acute uræmia, on October 30, 1888, caused—as the medical certificates show—by exposure in the immediate line of his duty while in command of the United States storeship Monongahela upon this voyage.

"He left his widow in straightened circumstance of the committed circumstance and with the condition of the content of the committee of the content of the content of the content of the committee of the content of the

The committee, after a careful consideration of the facts in this case and precedents in the cases of naval officers Dulaney, Twigs, Collins, Breeze, Breen, Craven and Butler, who sacrificed their l.ves in early manhood by devotion to duties exceptionably arduous, and whose widows' pensions were increased on that account, earnestly recommend the passage of the bill. In view of this statement, which will be given to the House on Monday, it would seem that a Congressional as well as a naval investigation is in order.

STALWART STEWART.

Nevada's Senator Denounces the New Pro-Chinese Labor Agitation. Washington, January 6th.—Senator Stewart was asked to-day by your correspondent what he thought of the agitation by the leading Democratic newspaper in San Francisco for the admission of the Chinese, after the doors have been practically closed against them by Congressional legislation. The Senator replied:

"I think it very foolish and inconsistent, and will not receive the approbation of one person in one hundred on the Pacific coast. Very likely there is some temporary inconvenience gressional legislation. The Senator replied:

"I think it very foolish and inconsistent, and will not receive the approbation of one person in one hundred on the Pacific coast. Very likely there is some temporary inconvenience occasioned by the exclusion of the Chinese. It breaks a labor system long established, and of course is temporarily embarrassing to the fruit-growers, railroad builders and others who have relied upon Chinese labor. Such difficulties will soon pass away. There will soon be an abundant supply of white labor to take the places of the Chinese when they are gone. White men are unwilling to emigrate to California to labor in competition with the Chinese, but when the field of labor is opened by the removal of the latter there will be an increased immigration of white men, who will build up this country, establish homes and maintain American civilization. If no Chinese had ever come to the Pacific coast the white population would have been more than double what it is to day. No part of the United states, or any other country under the sun, is so inviting for the industrious and enterprising immigrant as California. The climate is more healthy and the soil more productive than any other section of the United States. When the water available for irrigation is utilized, there is room in California for a vast population. Twenty millions of people could live and prosper in that State if her natural resources were more available. The whole coast will soon see the effects of excluding the Chinese by the coming of large numbers of desirable persons to become citizens, largely from the older States where the climate is more rigorous, the soil less productive and luxuries of life far less abundant. To again open the gates to Chinese immigration would be most disastrous. It would be the comforts and luxuries of life far less abundant. To again open the gates to Chinese immigration would be most disastrous. It would be the permanent dedication of the fairest section of the United States to a race that woul

HARRISON'S APPOINTMENTS. The Senate Will Remain in Session Long

Enough to Confirm Them. Washington, January 6th.—Whether there is in extra session of the Fifty-first Congress of not, there will be the usual extra session of the Senate to confirm the more important of President Harrison's nominations. The length of this session depends entirely upon the celerity in which the President elect makes his nominations of the confirmations of the confirmation of the conf session depends entirely upon the celerity in which the President elect makes his nominations and the promptness with which they are acted upon by the Senate. When General Garfield was inaugurated, the Senate remained in executive session from March 5th to May 20th. This session was delayed by Mr. Conkling's fight against the New York appointments. The special session of the Senate convened by President Arthur lasted from October 10, 1860, to October 29th. The Senate was in executive session to confirm President Cleveland's first nominations from March 5th, 1883, to April 2d.

A LIVELY WEEK. Interest in the Matter of the Union Pacific Funding Bill.

Washington, January 6th .- To-morrow morr Washington, January 6th.—To-morrow morning in the House of Representatives Reed will call up the resolutions reported from the Committee on Rules abolishing Suspension day. The House on Saturday night directed the Sergeant at Arms to telegraph to all the members absent from the city and request their presence. Reed will try to push the resolution through, and the filibusters will strive as forcibly to defeat it. Their avowed purpose is to defeat the Union Pacific funding and Oklahama bills. After this resolution is disposed of another attempt will be made to pass the river and harbor bill.

To morrow the sundry civil suppospiration bill. To morrow the sundry civil appropriation bill will be reported to the House, and this, with the Indian appropriation bill, now on the calendar, will give the House useful employment for the week.

In the Senate the consideration of the tariff bill will be resumed.

A Decision by Secretary Vilas that Affects the Grant Railroads. Washington, January 6th.—There seems to be a likelihood that the Guilford Miller decision rendered some time ago by Secretary Vilas will work serious injury to all land grant roads wherever the grant takes in a portion of an Indian reservation. In that decision the Secretary held that the roads could not take indemnity for lands within the limits of Indian reservations, but were entitled to the lands when the Indian right of occupancy expired. In many of these reservation the Government is now, by agreement, engaged in conferring upon the Indians the right to permanently hold these lands. This, of course, shuts the railroads out entirely, as they have no recourse to it demnity. The roads hold that if the Guilford Miller decision stands as good law the Government should, by a provision in its agreements with the various tribes, so fix the allotments of Jands as to leave the granted lands free. Nearly all the grant-land roads will be sufferers by the decision, as there are Indian reservations, along all the lipes. The Northern Pacific will probably be the greatest loser, as a large part of its grant runs into Indian reservations in Minnesota, Dakota, Idaho, Montana and Washington Territory.

It is generally believed that Secretary Lamar's decision on that point in the Omaha case will better stand the test of law.

HINTS TO COLLEGE GRADUATES. How it is Proposed to Recruit the Railway Mail Service.

Washington, January 6th.—The Civil Service Commission to-day made public the rules to govern the railway mail service, which was recently placed under the civil service by the President. All employes will remain in until removed for cause, die or resign, and all come under the civil service except the General Superintendent and Assistant Superintendents. Examinations for appointments will consist of the regular civil service questions, with additions relating to the railway mail systems in the State or Territory wherein the applicant resides. Examining Boards will be placed in each railway mail division, and vacancies will be filled from those eligible in States where vacancies occur. The applicant must pass at least 70 per cent, to be eligible. All applicants must be between 18 and 35 years of age, to be eligible, except in the cases of honorably discharged soldiers or sailors, not disabled, who will be examined regardless of age. Appointments will be recommended by Division Superintendents from the list of eligibles.

Contested House Seats. Washington, January 6th.—Chairman Crisp, of the Committee on Elections, has signified his intention of calling up on Tuesday the South Carolina contested election case of Smalls against Elliott. He expects opposition to the report of the committee in favor of the sitting member, and its consideration will probably consume two days. This case disposed of, the Sullivan-Felton California case will be called up.

Washington, January 6th.—The Republican Senators opposed to Blaine were disturbed by the news that Harrison was determined that he could not escape the necessity of offering Blaine a seat in the Cabinet. This is not a rumor, but a fact. General Harrison said as much to one of his Senatorial callers. Blaine's appointment would mean Platt left out in the cold.

CHINESE EXCLUSION.

Reported Expressions of Senator Stanfor Upon the Subject.

The San Francisco Examiner publishes a dispatch from Washington in which Senator Stanford is reported to have said, upon the attempted labor scare on account of the passage of the Chinese Exclusion Act: "The Chinamen are not leaving the country very fast, and the number of those who are is more than offset by those who come in from Canada at various points along the border. The trouble in the fruit districts, in my judgment, will be only temporary. If additional labor is needed. it can be supplied from a good class of white men in the East. The rates for

If Mr. Bonner pays $50,000 for Sunol, she will be the second Palo Alto product to go at that amount, the other being the great stallion Bell Boy, a half-brother to Sunol, and his price was the highest ever given for a stallion. No, and as a remedy women should assert their equality. Every wife," she further argued, "should take one-half the earnings of her husband. The Sign of the Cross in Russia. The Russian is crossing himself all day When he first comes forth in the open air in the morning, if no church be in sight from his own door, he listens for the first sound of some bell, then, turning towards it, crosses himself with great feror, to insure a blessing on the undertakngs of the day. He crosses himself before and after each meal. When you make a bargain with him, he crosses himself that it may prosper. When the peasant who is to drive you, takes the reins in his hand, he crosses himself to keep away accidents; and every steeple he passes gets the same mark of respect sometimes the edifice thus selected is so far off that the stranger wonders at the quickness shown in discovering it, and is often at a loss to discern the distant hamlet where it stands. In like manner the person, sitting beside you in any public conveyance, crosses himself every time you start with new horses. It is that impurity in the blood, which, accum lating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors." It is a more formidable enemy than consumption or cancer alone, for scrofula combines the worst possible features of both. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it. How can it be cured? By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the cures it has accomplished often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. For all affections of the blood Hood's Sarsaparilla is unequalled, and some of the cures it has effected are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula in any of its various forms, was failing in health and flesh so rapidly as to seriously alarm her relavives. She now writes: "I have taken but one bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, but it is astonishing. I am regaining my lost flesh and have not felt as well in years."

THE LEGISLATURE.

AT NOON TO-DAY.

The Democracy of the State En gaged in Dividing Up the Loaves and Fishes.

Yesterday was a busy day for the members of the Legislature, and for the numerous place-hunters who have gathered here in the hope of securing a snare of the political loaves and fishes which are to be given out in connection with the meeting of the Legislature. At an early hour there was a large crowd around the Golden Eagle and Capital Hotels, made up mostly of candidates. Wherever a member of either house appeared he was buttonholed by one after another, until be wished he was home or that the Legislature was organized. The crowd around the Union Hotel was not so large, but the business transacted there was large, but the business transacted there was more effective. Boss Buckley remained at the Union all day, and was visited by al most all of the members and many of the candidates. He seemed to put everybody in a good humor, and there was little "kicking" against his decisions.

On Saturday night a party of Assemblymen from the country called upon the boss to learn what they were to be allowed.

All he would ask for San Francisco was one-third of the offices. For the balance the San Francisco delegation would favor any one named by the majority of the members from the country. He was willing that they should have the Speaker and Chief Clerk, and give San Francisco the Sergeant-at-Arms, or they could have the Speaker and Sergeant at-Arms, and give San Francisco the Clerk. This seemed to the outside members a fair divide, and it was understood that San Distress and suffering Among Norwegian Settlers in Walsh County. FARGO (D. T.), January 6th .- A most pitiable FARGO (D. Huntley of this city. Mr. Richer reports having made a thorough canvass of Park River soliciting aid for the sufferers. The goods he collected were distributed by two thoroughly reliable men, who had just returned and reported that they distributed the goods as fairly as they could among fifteen families and that there still remained between forty and fifty families equally as destitute. there still remained between forty and fifty families equally as destitute.

The only means of subsistence they have or have had for some time is cooking their green frozen wheat into a sort of porridge. They live within the belt where the early frosts did the greatest damage. They had relied solely on this season's crep to tide them over the winter, and this calamity left them with absolutely nothing. They are principally of the Lutheran denomination, and because uncomplaining, their true condition has not before become known. THE CRUEL CHECK. One of the Most Common Forms of Torture of Horses. Thomas E. Hill, of Chicago, who two years ago was chosen Secretary of the American Humane Association, and has prepared a work on "Ways of Cruelty," is credited with the following remarks against one of the most common forms of torture of horses:

"From my office window I looked down."

White that vessel was engaged in target placetee.

"The boy who some time ago was lassoed by St. Louis dog-catchers and thrown into a pound-wagon with vagrant dogs, is still suffering horrible paroxysms. having as many as twelve daily, in which all the symptoms of hydrophobia are manifest. Two of the prisoners are ex convicts. They are held in bonds of $15,000 arch.

"From my office window I looked down on one of the leading retail stores in the country. In front of that place were stan-ing a good many fashionable equipages all hours of the day. I noticed that the horses were checked up in a way that was out-rageously cruel. They were victims of the owing to the presence of mind and courage of the intended victim.

One of the best known and most popular young beauties of Pasadena society was returning on Friday from a visit to a friend about dusk. Driving alone through Wilson's canyon she stopped to water her horse, when she was seized by a large negro, who said: "if you scream I'll kill you," and attempted to drag her into the weods.

She had her foot on the step of the buggy, and, seizing the dashboard with one hand and the whip with the other, she dealt the horse a blow which caused it to spring forward and thus draw her from the villain's grasp. She managed to gain the seat and make her way home, though much bruised by the wheels. Constant search has been made for the black brute, and if found it is not likely that he will be brought into the city alive.

I noticed that the horses were checked up in a way that was outrageously cruel. They were victims of the over-check. I brought in my artist and had him illustrate the book from nature, without the slightest exaggeration. This shocking cruelty to horses—it is nothing else—is mere fashion. Somebody adopted it, and someone else followed, and so on. It has spread alarmingly and horses in all parts of the country are suffering from the over-check. Since I have been in the West I have noticed how prevalent it is. It is used here on all kinds of horses. I went up Mount Hamilton a few days ago, and the Mount Hamilton a few days ago, and the horses that were harnessed to our wagons had to pull the heavy load with their

one of them. I was at Menlo Park a short time ago, and the people told me that Mr. Stanford would not permit the outrageous contrivance on any of his horses. His stablemen said the over-check was not a benefit, and the horse only suffered from its application. With this example before the people of California it is to be hoped with the control of the village of Brandon, in switzeriand, has been destroyed by fire. Many cattle were burned to death. The fire was ignited by a madman. they, too, will take the over-check from their horses. That method of checking is the worst form of cruelty that has been practiced on the horse. It is inhuman, and Seattle Boys Set Fire to a House and the press ought to cry out against it. It is a mere thoughtless freak, and the gentle-Cause the Death of a Man.
